Services for Laboratory Animal Medicine Specialists

IT'S THE RIGHT THING TO DO

For the specialized veterinarians who care for the populations of animals used in research, we are your partner in promoting animal well-being by providing custom-compounded medications when required by Laboratory Animal Medicine Specialists for drug therapies.

From creating a topical spray, to treating mites on hundreds of lab mice at a prestigious biomedical institute to delivering a banana-flavored chloramphenicol palmitate for the primates at a major pharmaceutical company, you can count on us to deliver on your unique requirements.

UNIQUE RESOURCES AND UNPARALLELED SUPPORT

We are one of the largest compounding pharmacies in the United States, and we dispense custom-compounded preparations to more than 25,000 prescribers and their patients in human and animal health. And we know how to meet the special medications needs of doctors and scientists like you, to maintain healthy animal populations.

By investing tens of millions of dollars in facilities, equipment and expertise since 1981 and through our own pioneering dosage-form developments, we are unmatched in the nation as a full-fledged partner in providing custom compounded medications. Your unique requirements are perfectly matched by our facilities, equipment, capabilities, experience and expertise. Our pharmacists and pharmacy technicians are devoted exclusively to compounding. They are supported by a team of customer care specialists, all certified through a state-approved examination. We employ state-of-the-art technology in every aspect of our operations in our 40,000 square-foot facility.
